Norman Moser
(June 13, 1910 — March 17, 1962)

In Memoriam

Mr. Moser came to us from Woodburn High School in 1952. He become a member of the coaching staff and was a Senior Shop instructor. He served the past four years as business sponsor of the Mirage and contributed much to the success of this book.

Not only was he respected by the teaching staff and student body but all people with whom he come into contact were influenced by his sincerity and true understanding of the importance of an individual.

He shall always be remembered for his kindness, cheerfulness, and friendship.

Alan Riedel came to New Haven in 1957 from James Smart School in the seventh grade. During his school days his friendly attitude, even temper, and winning smile made many friends for him. His keen devotion to athletics earned for him a regular position as tackle on two conference championship football teams. He was awarded a letterman's jacket in 1960.

Memories of Alan will long live in the hearts of New Haven high school students and faculty.

Places and Faces of '62

This year at New Haven High is made up of "Places and Faces of 1962." As the years go by we will always remember the places we have gone and the faces that meant so much to us. We will remember the places where we attended those exciting games, dances, and parties. There will be the familiar faces of our teachers, classmates, acquaintances, and, of course, that special someone. Each place will contain memories and each face a pleasant association.

Our school is made up of many places — halls, classrooms, offices, the cafeteria, the gyms, and above all, people.

These are the things that make

New Haven High School

special to us.

The unloading of buses marks the beginning of another school day.

In charge of the New Haven clinic is registered nurse, Mrs. Pat Federspiel. To help in speech and hearing therapy is John Reifsnider.

Everyday Scenes at

Between classes and whenever the opportunity presents itself, this common scene of locker conversation can be found.

School life actually begins at the age of six, but to us here at New Haven High it begins at 8:05 a.m. Each student has five classes a day plus time for lunch. Each class is seventy minutes long, with a five-minute break between classes.

There are 45 teachers on the staff to teach 1,168 students. We also have three guidance counselors to help us with college, job, or personal problems. Our school offers the usual subjects and has some of the best-equipped classrooms in the state of Indiana.

We study hard and long hours each day; however, we are also offered a wide variety of extracurricular activities.

of a Good Student

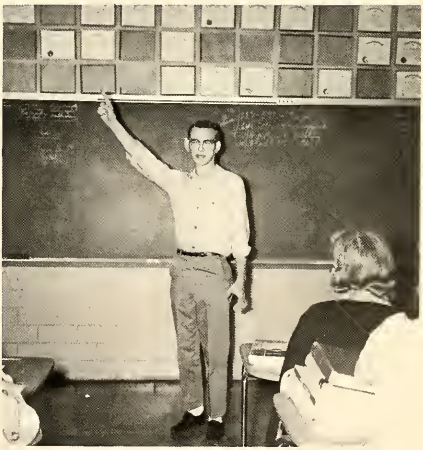
Paise and self-confidence while speaking are the main objectives of the speech class. A person can perfect his ability to express ideas clearly and interestingly. Students accomplish these objectives through panel discussions and individual speeches.

English literature and grammar are also of definite importance. They cultivate a student's appreciation of literature and teach basic essentials needed in writing.

These three phases provide for a well-rounded English education.



Gestures seem ta add ta the effectiveness af Dan Bechtal's speech.

Foreign Languages and Social Studies Broaden

Diane Bowman is illustrating her skill of writing the French language.

Foreign languages are necessary in this day of world controversy and of the jet age. They prepare us for better foreign relations in the future. In addition to the languages themselves, the customs, histories, people, and geographies of France, Germany, and the ancient Roman Empire were studied. All of these things gave the students a background and environment in which to study their particular language. They also worked on their projects, which were displayed throughout the year.

Miss Bower's government class is shown as they study the procedures of our government.

In government classes we were taught the three branches of the federal government and their functions. World situatians existing from the Stone Age to the present were studied by the students of world history. U.S. history students were taught the growth of America from the day Columbus landed to the present day and age. They learned of the work and the dangers that faced their ancestors of long ago.

Our Knowledge of Home and Abroad

Mr. Beugnot, Miss Levenberger, Miss Bower, Mr. Frock, and Mr. Howard are shown as they discuss their problems of the Social Studies Department.

Mr. Downey, Mr. Oberlin, Mrs. West, and Mr. Stebing are shown demanstrating a few of the facilities that are available in the Business Department.

Basic business education should be included in the curriculum of every young American. This will better prepare students for the job of living in a business society. Many students are equipped with typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping skills and are thus better prepared to earn a livelihood.

Developing proper attitudes, getting along with people, and business etiquette and dress are stressed throughout these courses.

Here three students are shown using calculating machines as they prove debits and credits for their bookkeeping exercises.

Jane Tibbett, Joyce Olinger, and Bonnie Thompson are each dissecting a cow's eyeball for health and safety.

Coordination, physical fitness, and fair play are the main objectives of the physical education department. Students also learn the value of team work and good sportsmanship. Through proper instruction and application, skill may be obtained in many different sports. A few of the sports offered at New Haven High are basketball, football, volleyball, trampoline, and tumbling. Also, each student is required to participate in body-building exercises.

Health and safety is important to each and every person in every walk of life. Many lives could be saved each day if everyone observed our health and safety rules. At New Haven High each student is required to take one year of health and safety. Through this subject we hope to better inform each student of the rules and regulations involving health and safety. We strive to make each one a better citizen by giving some life saving and first-aid training.

Miss Manifold is illustrating o technique in art.

Students have an opportunity to express themselves creatively in music and art; both usually encounter God-given talent. Art involves the skill of the hand, eye, and mind. It is the ability of the artist ta express on paper what he visualizes and its effect on him. An artist's persanality can be seen in his work.

In music, as in art, a person is enabled to express his feelings. This can be accomplished thraugh verbal actians and the type af music preferred by the person. Ta most people art and music are farms of relaxatian.

After school Susie Adams is relaxing as she talks on the phone to a friend.

There is an old saying, "Work before pleasure." Diane Bowman likes to combine pleasure with her homework.

With the 3:10 p.m. bell class is dismissed. Most pupils scurry to their lockers, gather their things, and make a dash for their bus. However, you will also find many students staying after school for extracurricular activities.

Few students find the 3:10 bell a dismissal of school work. After reaching their homes, they are usually confronted with homework. Even so, they need some relaxation, and it can usually be found in a television program or telephone conversation.

Another School Day

Relaxation is needed by everyone. Janet Kaenig and Alice Bailey find their relaxation in watching television. (TV picture cannot be seen due to camera flash).

Schaal spirit was aroused with the first pep sessian, which was held an the faotball field. It was a beautiful day which set the atmasphere far the beginning af a tremendous faotball seasan.

Safety is emphasized throughout the year by the "Teen-Age" Safety Council. Members are John Keeler, Bonnie Stinson, Roberto Craig, Lois Knipstein, and Sharon Dew.

As a climax to the basketball season New Haven holds its annual Class Tournament. At the Class Tourney the "hillbilly" dress of the graduating class can be seen.

Forgotten

Each year members of the track team choose a queen and four attendants to reign over the New Haven Track Meet. The court chosen was Judy Sturm (Junior Attendant), Becky Bearman (Senior Attendant), Sandra Dressler (Queen), Twila Watkins (Sophomore Attendant), and Miriam Werling (Freshman Attendant).

Beauty Steps Forward

Crown-bearers for the Prom were Brenda Sue St. Peters and Chris Despas.

The Junior Prom was held on May 6, 1961, at Cutter's Chalet. The theme, "Moonlight and Roses," was accented with decorations of pink roses and silver moons. Juniors, Seniors, and their guests danced to the music of "The Silhouettes" from 8:30 to 12:00 p.m. The high-point of the evening was the coronation as the crowns (left) were placed on Queen Joyce Rider and King Dick Langardner.

The After-Prom Party was held at Gaeglein's Hall. Refreshments were furnished by the parents of the Junior Class. Music was provided by "The Teardrops."

Places and Faces of '62

As we enter high school for the first time, we share both anticipation and wonder. Our steps are unsure, but our goal is the same — graduation. As Freshmen we seem to be at the bottom of the heap, but as each year posses, we progress closer and closer to that goal.

As Freshmen and Sophomores we are more or less getting introduced to everything. We participate in all the yearly activities. We enjoy the companionship of friends and teachers, the fun of parties and dances, and the excitement of ballgames. As Juniors we find ourselves in the middle of many activities. We enjoy the same things we did the year before, but there is one big added attraction, the Junior-Senior Prom. The Juniors finance and plan the prom, which creates one of the big excitements in high school.

The last year sees you pass by as dignified Seniors. You are on the top of the heop and always thinking of graduation. Upon graduation you are faced by the big cruel world. Eoch of us enter our particulor ambition, whether it be college, a job, or marriage.

Each graduate of

is considered a superior one.

School sponsored clubs, organizations, and functions offer an opportunity for students to meet new friends and experience the feeling of belanging. Students learn haw to get along with each other, and it gives them a chance ta develop well-rounded persanalities. At New Haven there are a variety of clubs and organizations that will fit every person's interest. Through Sunshine and Juniar Red Cross they are enabled to take an active part in cammunity service. New talent is discovered many times in Masque & Gavel. Hanorary clubs, such as National Honor, create student interest and set a goal far all. There are many other clubs not mentioned, such as Pep Club, GAA, Latin Club, and the student gaverning body, Student Cauncil.

All of these organizations help to give a well-rounded extracurricular program.

The New Haven Concert Band is under the direction of Mr. Paul Milliman. The members participate in the Solo and Ensemble Contest and give two formal concerts a year.

The Marching Band presented half-time performances at the home football games, which consisted of marching formations and twirling. The Concert Band and Reserve Band took turns providing music for basketball games and pep sessions. The Marching Band attends Camp Potawatomi during the summer to plan and work out their marching techniques.

All Band activities are brought to a close in the spring with their annual Awards Banquet.

Concert Choir

The New Haven High School Cancert Choir is made up of fifty-nine select voices.

This year the Chair has appeared before the student body for several convocations. They have made many public appearances including a program for a meeting of the teachers of northeastern Indiana and several Christmas concerts. These cancerts included an appearance on WANE-TV, the New Haven Women's Club, and several others.

Many Chair members have participated in the district and state sola and ensemble N.I.S.B.O.B.A. contests and won many superior ratings. The New Haven Chair has taken part in the state choir contest and in the past four years has won four consecutive superior or first place ratings.

The annual highlights of the year that the Choir sings for are the winter and spring concerts, ond the Baccalaureate Service.

Steve Heine, Tom Butler, Gene Campbell, Charles Mantgamery, and Sheila Murphy participate in a debate after school.

To preserve our democratic way of life our leaders must know how to talk effectively, intelligently, and responsibly. Our followers must listen to both sides of a question in order to choose wisely the right answers.

No other course of study or extra-curricular activity can offer more thon debate in training for leadership or democratic living. Debate permits those with opposing views to present their side. Debate is simply a specialized form of argument in which two or more persons agree in advance to discuss a public question in a regulated and systematic way. This year the discussion was centered around "Federal Aid to Education."

"Federal Aid to Education"

"Yes" or "No"

These debate teams presented their debate for the Parent-Teacher Association. Members are Steve Penrad, Dave Fultz, Sheila Murphy, (chairman), Sharan Dew, and Gene Campbell.

National Forensic League

This year the enrallment far NFL was 84 students. To become a member of National Forensic League, a student must earn 25 paints by participating in speech tourneys. There are three degrees to which the student can advance — Degree of Hanor (75 points), Degree of Excellence (150 points), and Degree of Distinction (250 paints).

The members participate in many taurneys throughout the year. This year the club hasted its Sixth Annual Speech Taurney and placed third. NFL members attended ten invitational taurneys and nine debates during the season. They alsa spansored an after-game dance an October 27.

New Haven ranks second in the state far NFL schools. The officers of NFL are Anne Haugsrud, President; Edith Sallot, Treasurer; and Martha Mafit, Secretary.

These students enjay porticipating in the excitement of theatrical productions. The officers ore Joyce Rider, President; Rick Aubrey, Vice-President, Corole Orchord, Secretary; and Lorry Bushkill, Treosurer.

This scene from the one-oct ploy, "Home to Mother," wos taken during the Mosque & Govel ossembly.

Another one-act play presented during the year was "Sauce for the Goslings."

Masque and Gavel, the school's dramatic club, has as its purpose the improvement of speech and drama throughout the school and community. During the year the members take an active part in dramatics by either directing or playing a part in the one-act plays. This year's one acts were "Home to Mother," "Sauce for the Goslings," "Lemon Pie for Andy," and "Noble David."

With NFL and the Speech Department, Masque and Gavel sponsors high school assemblies, an annual speech tournament in mid-November, and a Speakers' Bureau, which furnishes speakers and one-act play entertainment, upon request, to local community organizations.

The climax of many months of hard work comes in the spring with the two-night performance of the three-act play. At the close of the year a banquet to honor the graduating members and to initiate new members is held. The sponsors of Masque and Gavel are Mr. May and Mr. Boylan.

The photographer captures one of the amusing moments of the three-act play.

National Honor

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest scholastic honors bestowed upon a high school student. The students selected must possess qualities of good citizenship, scholarship, leadership, and service. In addition to the students pictured here, there were six seniors of the class of 1961 who received membership.

The officers of National Honor are Robert Ellison — President, Joyce Rider — Vice-President, and Joyce Burton — Secretary-Treasurer.

Student Council Members Help Govern School Affairs

The Student Council is composed of elected homeroom representatives with one from each homeroom. This year the Student Council officers were elected in a democratic way. There were two parties — The Gold Party and The Purple Party. Each had a party platform, and each gave political speeches and held conventions. Each pupil casts a vote for his or her choice, and votes were announced by homeroom in much the same way as states announce their votes.

Besides functioning as a student Government, the Council sponsors such social events as the annual Halloween Party and the Snowball Hop. It also sponsors after-game dances, auditorium programs, and takes its turn at the canteen. It is dedicated to serving the students.

Jim Louden is shown as he opens the canteen for the noon rush.

This is an illustration of the decorations prepared by the Student Council members for the annual Snowball Hop.

From the day school starts there is always plenty of work to keep the editorial staff busy. Members of this staff are Bannie Thampsan, Tom Easton, Mike Armstrong, Rita Scantlin, Diane Bawman, Sandy Braake, Cathy Clarke, Judy Thampson, Alice Bailey, Dianna Frane, Charlotte Blackburn, Marilyn Knipstein, and Susan Adams.

Editorial Staff

Mr. Oberlin (Spansar), Dianna Frane (Asst. Editar), Judy Thampsan (Editar), and Mrs. West (Spansar), are shawn as they preview the 1962 yearbaak.

In the spring af each year the yearbaak staff is chasen by the spansars and the editar. The staff cansists af twa parts — editarial and business. The editarial staff is headed by the editar and assistant editar and usually cansists af approximately twelve ca-editars. Its jab is the actual praductian af the yearbaak. The editar prepares what is called a "dummy," and all praductian comes fram this guide. It invalves preparing layauts, campasing write ups, and chaasing the caver.

The business staff is headed by the business manager and has twa subdivisians — subscriptian and ads. This staff has all the headaches af financing the baak. Subscriptians are sald ta the students and advertising space is sald ta local merchants. All in all it takes a great deal af wark ta produce a yearbaak.

These students are training to be our future nurses.

Lending a Helping Hand

Future Nurses is an organization for girls who want to become nurses. At the meetings different girls give reports on local hospitals. During the Christmas season they make a project of visiting one of the old-folks' homes. This year the girls visited the new section of Parkview Hospitol, which is devoted to the care of the old people. At this time they presented a program for these patients and gave them gifts. In the spring an annual event for the club is its mother and daughter banquet.

The officers of Future Nurses are Barbara Cass, Treasurer; Joyce Despas, Vice-President; Jo Bailey, President; and Cathy Clarke, Secretary.

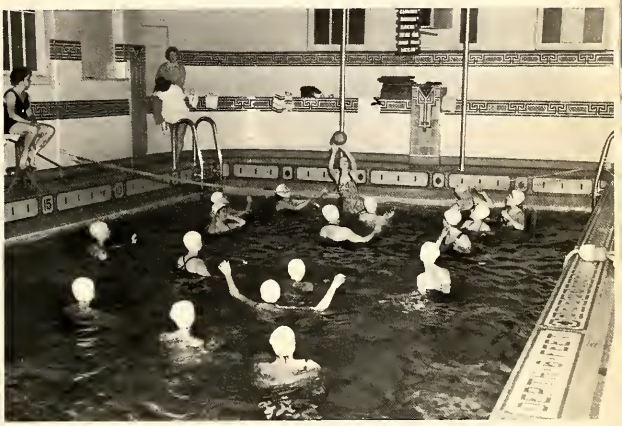
Many girls acquire new bowling skill by participating in the GAA bowling program. The large enrollment necessitated the formation of fourteen teams.

Girls Acquire New Skills

The two bowling trophies awarded each year are displayed in the GAA trophy case. A team trophy is presented for high series, and an individual trophy is presented for high singles. The trophy presentation is made at the annual GAA banquet, which is held in the spring of the year.

Swimming is a sport enjoyed by one and all. Each spring the GAA girls enjoy the warm water of the pool at the Y.W.C.A. During the course of the swimming program, the girls receive pointers on how to improve their swimming and diving.



The girls are shown as they participate in the fun and fralic of water volleyball.

Basketball season is looked forward to by all members and extends over a period of six weeks. The teams are formed to promote good sportsmanship and skill. It is climaxed by the annual Class Tourney in which the girls participate in a basketball tournament. Teams are chosen by the GAA Board and consist of twelve members from each class.

Through participation in sports, the boys' skills and physical endurances are put to the test. During practice sessions they obtain skill in their particular sport and easily build up their physical endurance. All boys must follow training rules set up to help them obtain the needed physical fitness. However, skill and physical fitness are not all that is needed; each must possess qualities of good sportsmanship and fair play. Also, most boys must have an average or above average mental ability.

Members of the different teams work hard to receive their letters and jackets. Another honor often received by New Haven athletes is scholarships.

New Haven High School offers a wide variety of sports. Included in our sports program are cross country, wrestling, football, basketball, track, and baseball.

Behind every team there is a need for school spirit and enthusiasm to pave the way to victory.

The year '62 brought many more changes in the "Mirage." The use of more pages and larger pictures is the most noticeable change. Among the more important features is the added attraction of an index and double division pages. These along with the cover and theme have given this year's annual a much more enchanting and desirable appearance. The staff has worked hard to better the book for you, the students of New Haven High School. Each member has gained experience long to be remembered.

Now that all deadline worries have passed, we would like to thank our advisors and patrons for their help in preparing this annual.
